The image shows a screenshot of the Stata download login page on the left and a laptop displaying Stata software output on the right. The login page has the Stata logo at the top left, followed by the heading "Download Stata". Below this, there is a paragraph of text: "You will receive an email from StataCorp with your username and password. The username and password are different from the username and password you use to access your Stata account on <http://www.stata.com/>." Below this text is a link: "Can't find your username, password, and serial number?". There are three input fields: "Username*", "Password*", and "Stata serial number*". At the bottom of the form are two buttons: "Log in" (blue) and "Clear form" (white with blue border). Below the form is a note: "Please ensure that your browser is set to accept cookies. Your browser must accept cookies for you to be able to log in to this site and download Stata." The laptop on the right shows the Stata command window with a table of results. The table has columns for "Year", "Age", "Female", "Married", "Black", "Hispanic", "White", "Other", "Constant", and "Number of obs". The table contains numerical data for each row, representing different demographic groups.
